Do you have any comments about your response above? There is already too much housing/buildings in Auckland. For the amount of people that play golf in comparison to how much land is required for this sport/recreation is far too much. I would rather see this land be turned into parks or other receational spaces for the entire public to enjoy. No more housing, I don't see why Auckland has such a strong focus on cramming more people into this once beautiful city?

Do you have any comments about your responses above? End of the day the council will turn all of our 'green' into housing so they can collect more rates. Our infrastructure can't handle the amount of people living here. Just look at the traffic on the roads these days...ridiculous!

Honestly, your ideas are for the wealthy, I see nowhere at all that it helps the lower class, and even if the housing comes available how long will it take before the housing is taken away from them.
