Transforming Lower Hobson Street

Lower Hobson Street, Sturdee Street and Customs Street West sit on the historic edge of the Waitematā Harbour.

We are planning changes to strengthen waterfront connections, improve local access and create greener, more inviting streets and open spaces.

Creating space and opportunity

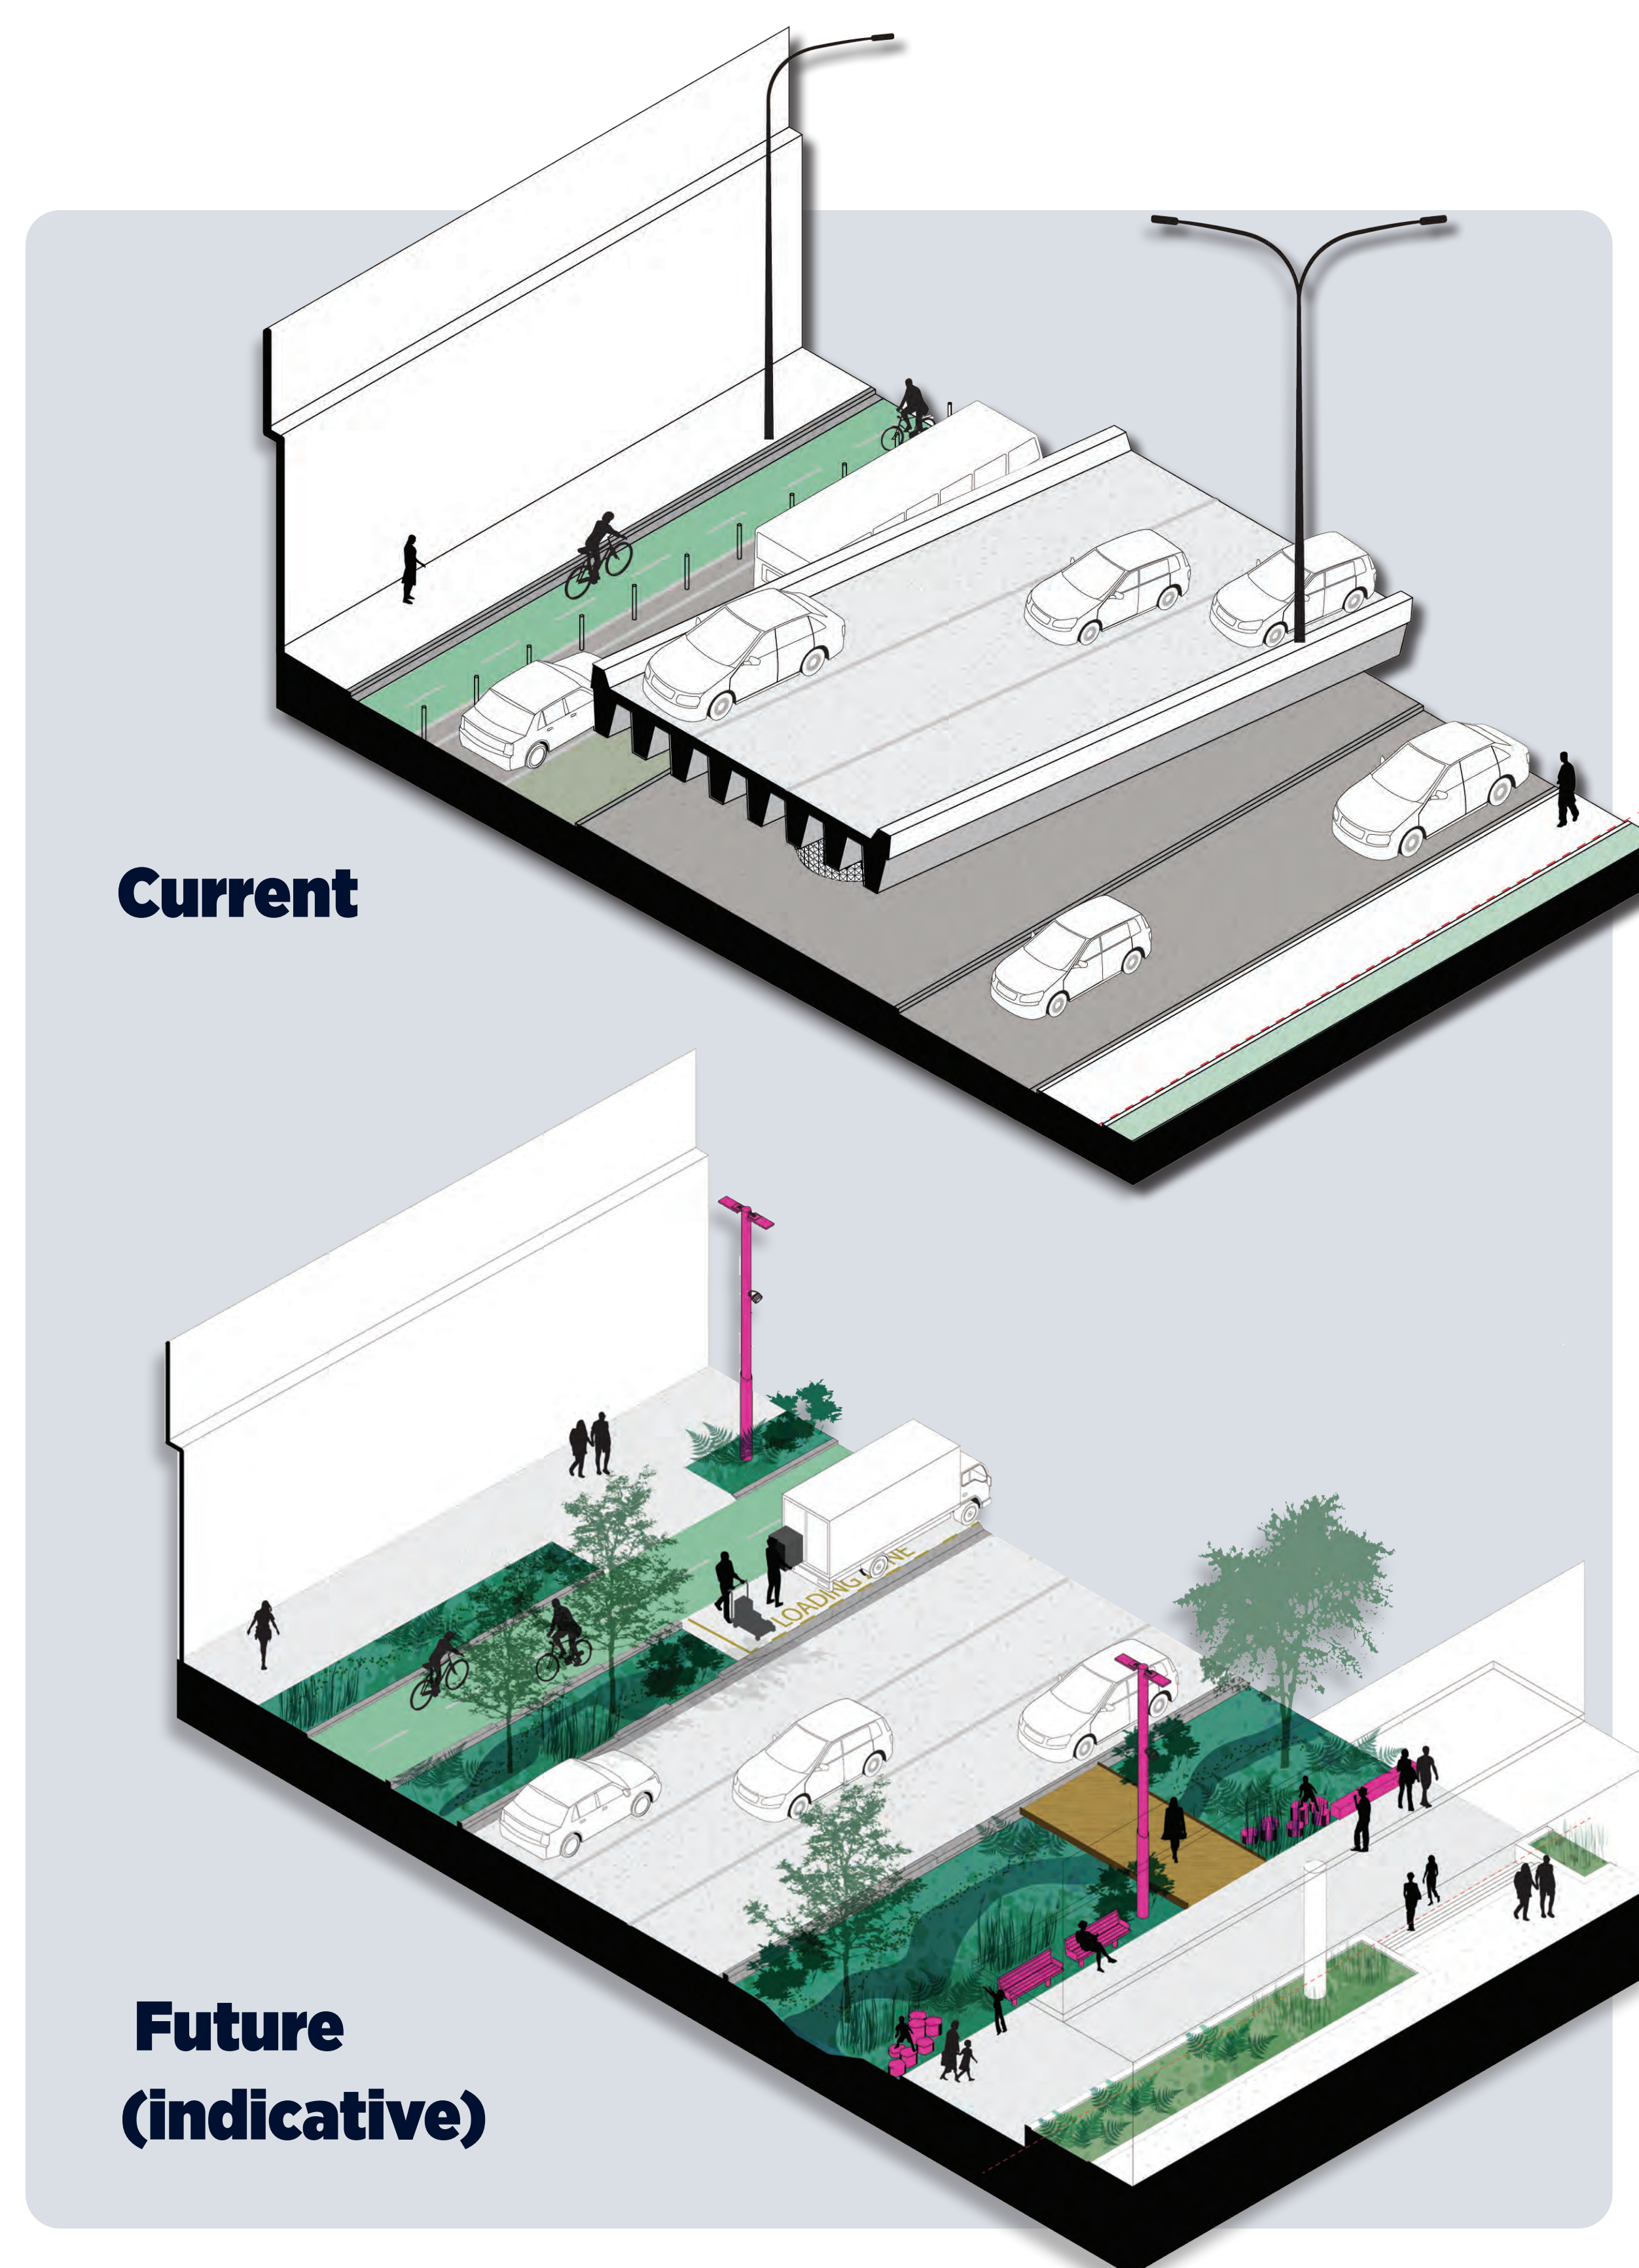

Removing the flyover will open up Lower Hobson and Sturdee streets, creating space for wider footpaths, a simpler intersection, and easier movement between the city centre, the Viaduct and the waterfront.

These changes will create more welcoming local streets for people to move through and spend time.

Fanshawe Street retaining wall

To support these changes, part of the retaining wall along Fanshawe Street will shift northward to enable two-way traffic on Fanshawe Street. Sturdee Street will also become two-way, improving access and circulation.

These street changes must be completed before the Lower Hobson Street flyover can be removed.
