Your feedback

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Support

   Tell us why:
   It is providing a governing body with opinions from the indigenous residents. It is better to have a multiple representatives of a community, especially the Māori community. It is giving an opportunity to the native people to have their voices be heard and seen.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.
   This would ensure planning could start in November 2023 to include Māori seats for the 2025 local elections.
   More information on the below options and their achievability by 2025 can be found in the consultation material under 'Options for Māori seats'.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   The Parliamentary model (Māori wards)

   Tell us why:
   The Parliamentary model seems to be the most reasonable. It is a model designed by our government for our people.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?

#74

Think about the Māori community. It has a been a struggle to regain the stolen land, atleast having a place to freely give your opinion and have control over it is a remarkable advancement within our government, but still their is so much to still do.

Your feedback

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Support

   Tell us why:
   We all need Maori to flourish.

   Having elected Councillors may help. I'm especially thinking of Maori whose views and needs may not be being heard or heeded at present.

   I do believe excellent work has happened through Independent Maori Statutory Board, however this has not been enough.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   The Royal Commission model

   Tell us why:
   I think a consideration of the role of the IMSB is important here but I definitely prefer the Royal Commission model.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?
   Please enable Māori representation at the Governance level. It is the right step forward for Auckland Council and subsequently for Tāmaki Makaurau.

Your feedback

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   It's racist. I do not believe they require representation more than any other community. Councilors should work for all communities and do not single out anyone requiring 'special' consideration. It's a very slippery slope.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   A different model

   Tell us why:
   I'd prefer all communities to be the same with no special representation needed for any one community because their ancestors were the first here. Does not make them any more special or deserving.

Your feedback

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   because it is racist. all Aucklanders should have an equal say in their future - not a selected race having a greater exclusive voice. Why don't we also then have specific seats for Pakeha, or Pacific Islanders, or Indians, or Chinese/Asian!!!!!

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.

   Tell us why:
   it is the lesser offensive model

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?
   this is a terrible suggestion. one race shouldn't be given extra preference to all other races. we are all equal and we should be treated as such

Your feedback

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   Maori like all Aucklanders have the same rights and representation as every other nationality. The fallacy that Maori history makes them environmentalists is rubbish. True history shows that they plundered the lands as anyone from that time would in order to survive and many species went extinct under their watch. All Aucklanders should share an equal responsibility in decisions that affect our city. Specific Maori seats simply adds bureaucracy hindering development and decision making appeasing a group that will never be appeased unless at significant financial cost.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   The Parliamentary model (Māori wards)

   Tell us why:
   I'm against the seats but at least using the Parliamentary model reduces cost and avoids new legislation. Too much new legislation refers to Treaty Values etc and adds even more bureaucracy.

#986

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?

   I voted for this Mayor to stand up against woke money wasting and stupidity. I accept that he's up against it but support him in his fight against the financially illiterate councillors. Any gains he makes in reducing money wasting is greatly appreciated. I believe Maori seats are unnecessary and will add unmeasurable cost and we are better without them. The majority of rate payers would agree with me and are fed up pandering to this ideology which never adds any value.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?
   Remuneration and koha need to be capped and these representatives need to work with council not against it. This should not become a burden on the rate payer or make timeframes and consents take longer. Whilst important to understand a Maori World view the needs of all ratepayers needs to be at the fore.

   11.5 percent Maori in Auckland is not a high percentage, they are minority group, why given them special privileges.

   And besides that at a time when everyone in society is struggling financially we don't need to be paying for Maori seats it's just an added cost for everyone

That the council elections and seats can be won with very small numbers of people voting, so if Maori or anyone else wants to run for coiuncil then they have a very good chance if they are good enough to be elected to the council without having to have separate seats for any peoples.

   If people want to vote for a Māori representative, they can do so by voting for this person that is on the roll.

   As you say that there are more than 10% Māori in our city, than there could be two or more Māori in the counsel.

   I prefer to vote for a person that I think will represent our ward or council well rather than a race-based division.

   I have voted for Māori ward and Pacific Island members in the past because of their community input, not on the fact they were Māori or Pacific Islander.

   I believe it is only right that Maori seats should be introduced for Auckland. It is an acknowledgement of their right as tangata whenua and they will be a fair and more accurate representation for Maori (Auckland holding the largest population of Maori in New Zealand). They can Advocate for policies that address the social, economic, and cultural needs of the Maori community. Maori seat holders can collaborate to help maori understand council perspectives and priorities.

The Maori community holds a unique and historical place within our society. The establishment of Maori seats on the Auckland Council Governing Body would not only honor the Treaty of Waitangi and recognize the importance of Maori perspectives but would also foster a more inclusive and representative democracy that respects the rights of all citizens.

Including Maori seats acknowledges the cultural heritage and ancestral connections that Maori people have to the land and the city.

Maori seats would ensure that Maori voices are directly represented in discussions on policies, projects, and initiatives that impact their communities.

Maori representatives can provide invaluable insights into cultural matters, environmental stewardship, and community well-being that might not be fully understood by non-Maori representatives. Their expertise can enhance the quality of decisions made by the council.

A diverse governing body that accurately reflects the demographics of our city contributes to a more robust and resilient democracy. Maori seats would increase the diversity of perspectives, ultimately leading to better outcomes for all residents.

The inclusion of Maori seats demonstrates a commitment to building a more inclusive and united Auckland. It sends a message that you value and respect the contributions of our indigenous population and are dedicated to working collaboratively for the betterment of our city.

I respectfully urge you to consider the establishment of Maori seats on the Auckland Council Governing Body as a positive and progressive step towards a more just and equitable society. By ensuring that Maori voices are directly represented in decision-making processes, you can address the unique challenges faced by the Maori community and work together to create a city that thrives for all its residents.

   Tell us why:
   I firmly believe that the sustained development of a nation or region should rest upon the bedrock of individual merit and capabilities, transcending the boundaries of ethnicity. While acknowledging the importance of catering to the needs and concerns of the Māori community, I advocate for an approach that is more all-encompassing. Instead of exclusively assigning dedicated seats for Māori representation within the Auckland government council, it would be far more constructive to channel our efforts into policies and initiatives that uplift and empower every member of our community, regardless of their background.

   An equitable and harmonious society aspires to offer equal opportunities for all, cultivating an environment where individuals can thrive and make meaningful contributions based on their skills, talents, and dedication. By prioritizing qualifications, competencies, and expertise, we ensure that our decision-makers are selected based on their capacity to govern effectively and foster positive change. This not only guarantees optimal representation but also fosters solidarity and collaboration among diverse segments of our population.

   Furthermore, by placing a spotlight on education, training, and accessible employment prospects for all, we can address historical inequalities and move towards a future where each person is afforded the chance to succeed. Through these means, we uphold the tenets of fairness, meritocracy, and social cohesion, creating an atmosphere where our collective objectives of advancement and growth can be realized together.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.

More information on the below options and their achievability by 2025 can be found in the consultation material under 'Options for Māori seats'.

If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?

The Parliamentary model (Māori wards)

Tell us why:

Firstly, I do not support the dedicated introduction of Māori seats, as I believe that the development of a nation and community should be based on individual capabilities and qualifications rather than ethnicity. However, if the introduction of Māori seats is deemed necessary, I lean towards the Parliamentary Model.

I choose the Parliamentary Model because I firmly believe that a just society should provide equal opportunities for everyone to contribute and be represented. This model aligns with values of equality and meritocracy, allowing Māori voters to directly elect representatives who can advocate for the needs of the Māori community within the Auckland council. By placing emphasis on individual abilities and qualifications, this model ensures that leaders are chosen based on their competence in effective governance and bringing about positive change.

Moreover, implementing Māori seats within the Auckland council through the Parliamentary Model can foster inclusivity and diversity in the decision-making process. It acknowledges the historical and cultural significance of the Māori community, providing them with a dedicated platform to voice concerns and contribute to community development.

I believe that this model strikes a balance between acknowledging the unique needs of the Māori community and upholding principles of fairness and equal representation. It enables us to move forward as a united and cohesive community, where every individual's voice is heard and respected.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?

1. Long-Term Community Development: Emphasize the importance of policies and initiatives that promote long-term community development and uplift all residents, regardless of their background. Encouraging educational opportunities, job training, and accessible services can lead to a more prosperous and cohesive community.

2. Unity and Inclusivity: Highlight the value of fostering unity and inclusivity among all community members. Emphasize that policies should bring people together and avoid the risk of creating divisions based on ethnicity or representation.

3. Diverse Perspectives: Advocate for a decision that ensures a diverse range of perspectives are taken into account. Encouraging active involvement from various community members, including the Māori population, can lead to more comprehensive and well-rounded solutions.

4. Consultation and Engagement: Stress the importance of consulting with the community and involving them in the decision-making process. This will not only lead to more informed choices but also ensure that the community's voice is heard and respected.

5. Positive Example: Suggest that the decision made by the council can set a positive example for other communities by demonstrating how to balance the needs of different groups while promoting unity and progress.

6. Transparency and Accountability: Urge the council to prioritize transparency and accountability in their decision-making process. Ensuring that decisions are made openly and in the best interests of the entire community can enhance trust and support.

7. Consideration of Alternatives: If you have any ideas for alternative solutions that align with your principles, you could propose those as well, showing your willingness to find common ground.

Furthermore, if there is a decision to specifically introduce Māori seats, it's important to consider the broader implications of such a move. While addressing the needs of the Māori community is crucial, we should also be mindful of maintaining fairness and preventing potential inequalities. If we allocate seats for one ethnic group, it raises the question of equity for other minority groups as well. To ensure a just and inclusive representation, we might find ourselves needing to address the representation of other communities too.

In the long run, an approach that promotes unity and equality among all ethnicities is essential for a thriving and harmonious community. We must be cautious not to inadvertently create divisions by overemphasizing one group's representation over others. This balanced approach not only ensures equal opportunities for all but also encourages collaboration and understanding among diverse communities. By fostering an environment where every voice is heard and respected, we can contribute to a society that is truly inclusive and supportive of everyone's growth and development.

Today's Maori are demonstrably disadvantaged by historical colonialism compared to the general population. This is why this measure is needed. Over time, one would hope we can improve the situation for Maori to the point that there is no demonstrable disadvantage compared to the general population. When this is achieved, the necessity for differentiated representation will be no longer required and should then be abolished.

Your feedback

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   Maori can stand for election for any seats that they desire. Probably Maori already on council.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.
   This would ensure planning could start in November 2023 to include Māori seats for the 2025 local elections.
   More information on the below options and their achievability by 2025 can be found in the consultation material under 'Options for Māori seats'.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?

   Tell us why:
   All councilors Should be elected

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?
   I do not support the appointment of any unelected representatives to Auckland Council or any of its affiliated organisations.

   Im against the introduction of Maori wards or any other race based wards.

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   If Māori want to have seats on Auckland council they should run for council like all other councillors regardless of race and be elected democratically. There is no law saying that Māori can't run for council - so what is stopping them!

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   No preference

   Tell us why:
   There shouldn't be a model that is race based.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?
   Those of us that were born here or are a NZ resident should be recognised as New Zealanders and should be elected in one set of council elections for the existing 20 seats. The separatist and race based ideals that are being pushed through are sending us back to the dark ages and creating more racism than I have ever experienced.

   As previous statement. We are supposed to be 'one', nobody singled out.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?
   To be fair to all NZ Citizens. That no matter what race, the best person for the job gets it.

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   I recognize that Maori were here before the english but we are now all one people and we should not be giving special privileges to one particular race. The moment you start to segregate you are on the road to racial separation. I want everyone to be one and by giving them special rights you are degrading the other races.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   A different model

   Tell us why:
   I don't want there to be any maori seats. If they had to chose a maori seats then a different model would be needed where there is one one Maori representative per ward and they only have one vote, like the rest of the councilors. The Maori councilor would have to be voted in like the rest of the councilors.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?

   We need to be one people, not segregated by race. Maori can represent themselves by standing as a candidate in the election, like everyone else. The moment you start to segregate you are on the road to racial separation.

   I believe modern democracy, and for its ongoing future in NZ, should not be decided on racial grounds and that elected officials should be elected on what voters perceived as the 'merit' of the candidates they vote for. I have no problem with a Maori Advisory group offering advice to democratically elected official on Waitangi Treaty aspects.

   If the Council decided that seats should be provided on racial grounds then they should also consider seat for other ethnic groups. For example Asian and Pacific Islanders are also significant groups in the Auckland Regin and like Maori they population is expected tpo grow significantly.

   By following this path and giving Māori special privileges not afforded to any other ethnicities, you are causing mistrust and divisions based on race. This is not fair and Auckland Council should not be shoring up racial division. Auckland Council are responsible to AUCKLANDERS ONLY and has no business following the Government's commitment to increasing racial tensions. I have lived in NZ for 40 years now and I have never before witnessed the racial tension which you are planning to add to. Please get on doing what all Aucklanders want you to do. Get our city running well and stop meddling in racial issues when there is no reason to.

How racist you are to think that prioritising any group over another actually is. Also consider that a minority making ruling decisions for a majority has never ended well in history. Iraq is a good recent example.

To whomever it concerns,

I have just filled out your rather biased poll online for your new additive seats for Maori.

Bluntly, these should all be electorates anyone can enter. Why do you need separate seats? There is nothing stopping Māori for entering the general roll....
Also why are you not asking what general model people would prefer without Māori specific seats???? Very biased questions here.

The only change I think that you should be making is for Electorates based around the Māori specific whenua locations, where any local residents can vote in. You would be adding wards and shrinking others. Not this co governance crap or just adding more of a specific racial group over all others.

I would question How racist you are to think that prioritising a specific group over another actually is. Also consider that a minority making ruling decisions for a majority has never ended well in history. Iraq is a good recent example. If this continues then many people may start to feel they are Maori.

Yours Sincerely

   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   Democracy is the key word to that question. This is not democratic allowing a minority group having a special entitlement because of race. You throw around the Treaty of Waitangi obligations as the requirement yet Auckland Council has no obligations to the Treary. We are not party to that and more to the point, this is 2023 not 1840. New Zealand has changed. We are multi-cultural not bicultural. Without input of all of Aucklanders (New Zealanders) this city (country) would not be the place it is. NO to special treatment because of race.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.
   This would ensure planning could start in November 2023 to include Māori seats for the 2025 local elections.

About Māori seats on Auckland Council

Te Kaunihera o Tāmaki Makaurau / Auckland Council will decide in October 2023 whether to introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections.

A decision on Māori seats for the council is a significant one. It is about how Māori are represented in Auckland, and how Aucklanders are represented by their Governing Body.

Before deciding, the council would like to hear and consider the views and preferences of Māori and the wider public of Auckland.

Auckland Council currently has a set number of 20 elected general ward councillors (seats) with no provision for elected Māori seats.

What we need your feedback on

We want your views on whether Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats. The council will take your views into account when it decides later this year.

If we decide to have one or more Māori seats in the next local elections, we must do so by 23 November 2023. That is why we are consulting you now.

After reading the information and options in this document, please see the consultation questions in part four: feedback form.

Term	Definition
Māori seats	Māori seats are designated seats on a council for Māori representatives.
Māori elected seats	Māori elected seats are elected by those on the Māori electoral roll. Māori elected seats represent Māori ward areas.
Māori appointed seats	Māori appointed seats refer to seats on a local council that are filled by appointment rather than election.
Māori wards	A Māori ward is an electoral area. Voters on the Māori electoral roll elect one or more councillors.
General wards	A general ward is an electoral area. Voters on the general roll elect one or more councillors.
Māori representation	Māori representation refers to provision that ensures a member on the governing body of a council is decided by and represents Māori, such as election by Māori ward or appointment by a representative group of Māori. Appointment by a representative group of Māori is not currently an option in legislation in local government.
Model of representation	The way in which representation is arranged (i.e. how many seats, elected or appointed, etc).
Governing Body	The Governing Body of Auckland Council comprises the mayor and councillors. Auckland Council currently has a set number of 20 elected general ward councillors (seats) with no provision for elected Māori seats. The Governing Body focusses on the big picture and on regionwide strategic decisions.
Local boards	Auckland Council's local boards represent the communities in their area and make decisions on local issues, activities and facilities. Each of the 21 local boards has between five and nine members, elected by voters from the area they represent.

Part one: context

Why is this decision being made this year?

Auckland Council would like to know your views and preferences on introducing Māori seats for the 2025 local elections. If the council decides to have one or more Māori seats, it must make this decision by 23 November 2023. That is why we are consulting you now.

Previously, Auckland Council faced two challenges in introducing Māori seats:

- a binding poll (referendum) could be held
- our council has a set number of councillors.

Around Aotearoa / New Zealand there was evidence that polls overturned the councils' proposals, meaning they could not introduce Māori seats. The poll provision only applied to Māori wards and not to other wards. The government removed this provision in March 2021.

After the poll provision was removed, 32 of the 78 councils in New Zealand introduced Māori wards for the 2022 local elections. This has resulted in 60 newly established Māori seats across the country.

Auckland Council is the only council in New Zealand with a set number of councillors for the Governing Body. When Auckland Council was created in 2010, the Government decided there would be 20 councillors plus one mayor on the Governing Body.

The Governing Body has previously agreed 'in-principle' support for introducing Māori seats once the set number of councillors was removed. Changes to legislation are currently before Parliament to remove the set number of councillors. It is important to note here that although these changes are underway, they have not yet been made. If this change does happen, it will align Auckland Council with other councils in the country.

With the two previous challenges either removed or being removed, the Governing Body now wants to hear from Aucklanders before making a decision.

Māori in Tāmaki Makaurau

Tāmaki Makaurau / Auckland has the largest Māori population in Aotearoa. Māori make up 11.5 per cent of the region's total population. Their presence underpins the rich cultural landscape that makes our region unique.

A mana whenua group means an iwi or hapū that exercises historical and continuing mana whenua over land in Tāmaki Makaurau. Auckland Council recognises the interests of 19 mana whenua iwi.

Mataawaka are Māori who whakapapa to iwi outside Tāmaki Makaurau. Mataawaka make up over 80 per cent of the total Māori population in Tāmaki Makaurau.

Governance of Tāmaki Makaurau

Most local councils in New Zealand have a governing body, which is made up of the mayor and elected councillors. Auckland Council has a shared decision-making structure with the Governing Body and local boards.

When the Government created Auckland Council back in 2010, it also created a new governance structure.

The Government merged the previous councils into one 'supercity' Auckland Council. In doing so, it wanted a structure that met the needs of both our region and our local communities.

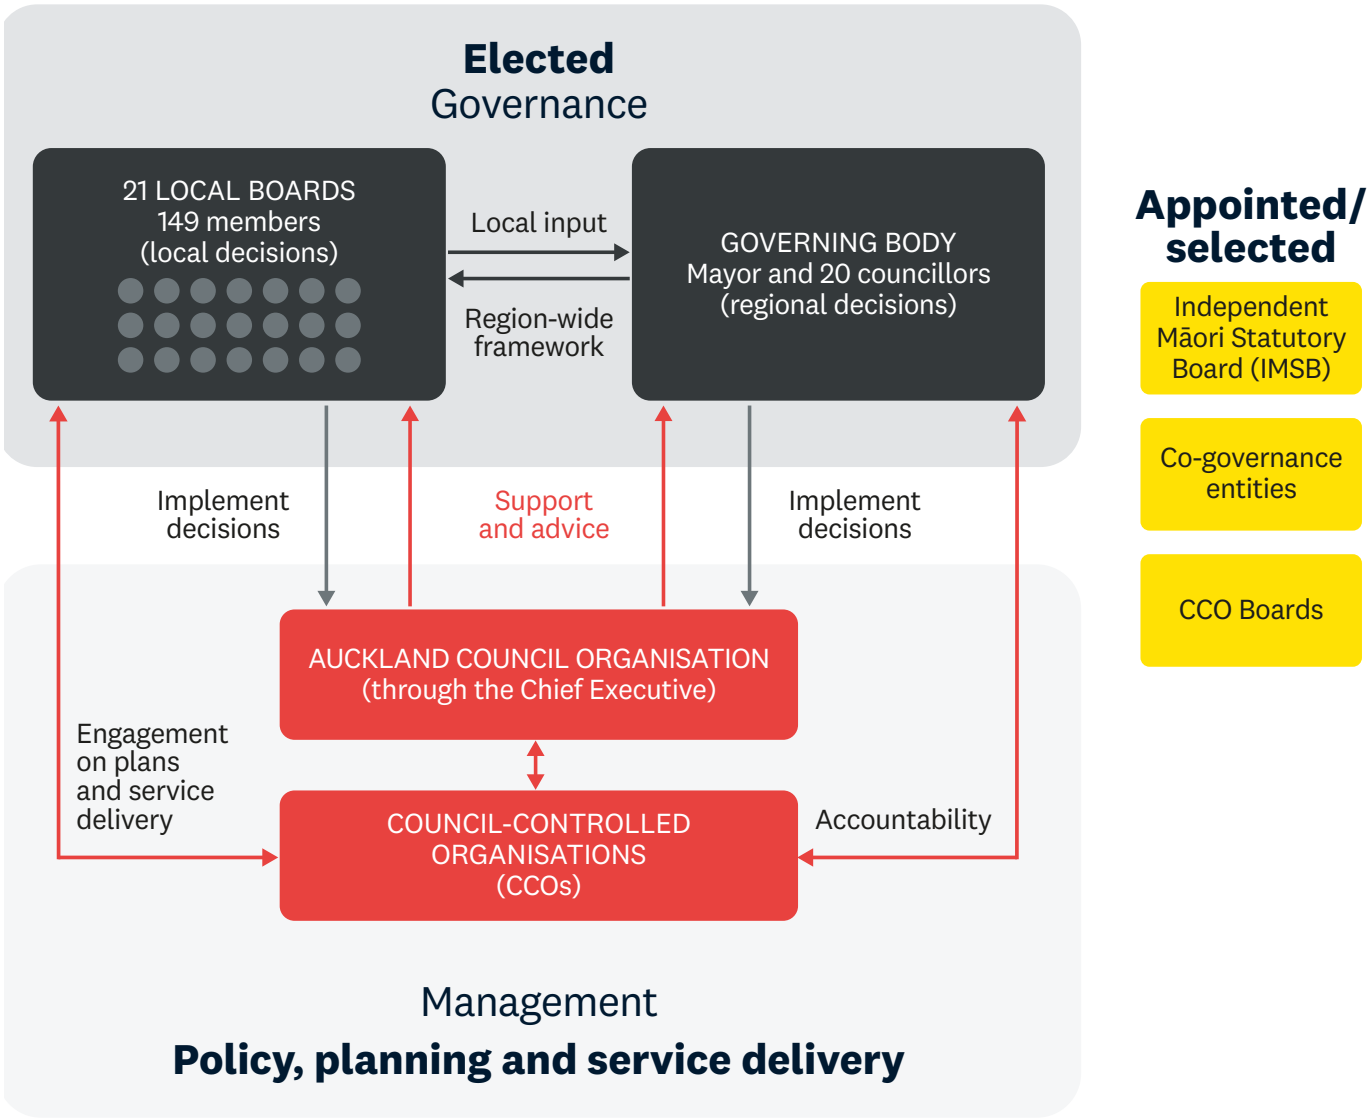

This meant that we needed a structure unlike any of the other local councils throughout the country.

Auckland Council has a Governing Body made up of the mayor and 20 elected ward councillors from the 13 ward areas. The Governing Body looks after regional issues that affect all of Auckland such as large regional parks and planning for housing and infrastructure.

We also have 21 local boards within the Auckland region who look after the issues important to their local communities. In this way the decision-making of Auckland Council is shared between the Governing Body and the local boards.

The legislation that created Auckland Council also created the Independent Māori Statutory Board (IMSB), which is discussed further in the next section.

The diagram below shows how all the parts of Auckland Council work together. You can read more about the council's governance structure by here

The Independent Māori Statutory Board

The Independent Māori Statutory Board is independent of Auckland Council, and a statutory body (meaning it is set up by law).

The IMSB has a statutory purpose and role to assist the council to make decisions by monitoring the council against its Te Tiriti o Waitangi / Treaty of Waitangi obligations.

The IMSB also promotes issues of significance to Māori in Tāmaki Makaurau. You can find out more about the Independent Māori Statutory Board and its work by visiting here

Auckland Council has several committees of the Governing Body (mayor and councillors). These committees make sure that the right amount of attention can be paid to each important area of decision-making.

The IMSB participates in council decisions, including as members of council committees. Legislation requires the IMSB to appoint two members to each committee that deals with the management and stewardship of natural and physical resources. IMSB members may also sit on other committees with consent.

The IMSB cannot appoint any members to the Governing Body. For the Governing Body to include Māori seats under the current law, Auckland would need to establish one or more Māori wards which would elect Māori seats.

The Government's intention when it established the IMSB was to enhance Māori participation in decision-making. The Government did not see the IMSB as a replacement for Māori representation on the Auckland Council Governing Body.

What's the difference between Māori participation and Māori representation?

Representation and participation may seem similar, but in this context, they have different meanings.

- Māori representation refers to the provision of Māori seats on Auckland Council's Governing Body. Māori representatives on Governing Body would have all the same functions, powers, responsibilities, rights, and duties as the other Governing Body members.
- Māori participation refers to the ability for Māori to influence policy and decision-making by Auckland Council.

While participation and representation are related, they are not the same thing. Both are important for making sure that local government responds to the needs of the community.

Part two: Māori seats for Auckland Council #6216

What does 'Māori seats' mean?

Māori seats, as the term is used in this document, are designated seats on a council for Māori representatives. Under current law, the council would need to establish one or more Māori wards from which Māori seats would be elected from.

There are two ways to fill seats: by election, and by appointment, although in Auckland there is currently no ability to make appointments to the Governing Body. It would need new legislation.

Māori elected seats are elected by those on the Māori electoral roll. Under the Local Electoral Act 2001, councils can establish Māori wards. Those on the Māori electoral roll for a Māori ward elect one or more councillors to represent the Māori ward. The total number of elected Māori councillors is proportional to the Māori Electoral Population (number of people on the Māori roll).

A council must use a formula in the Local Electoral Act 2001 to determine how many members on a council can be elected from one or more Māori wards. The legislation does not provide for elected Māori seats on local boards.

What does the formula mean for Auckland?

The formula is based on two factors:

1. the number of voters on the Māori electoral roll, and
2. the total number of ward councillors on the Governing Body, which is currently set at 20.

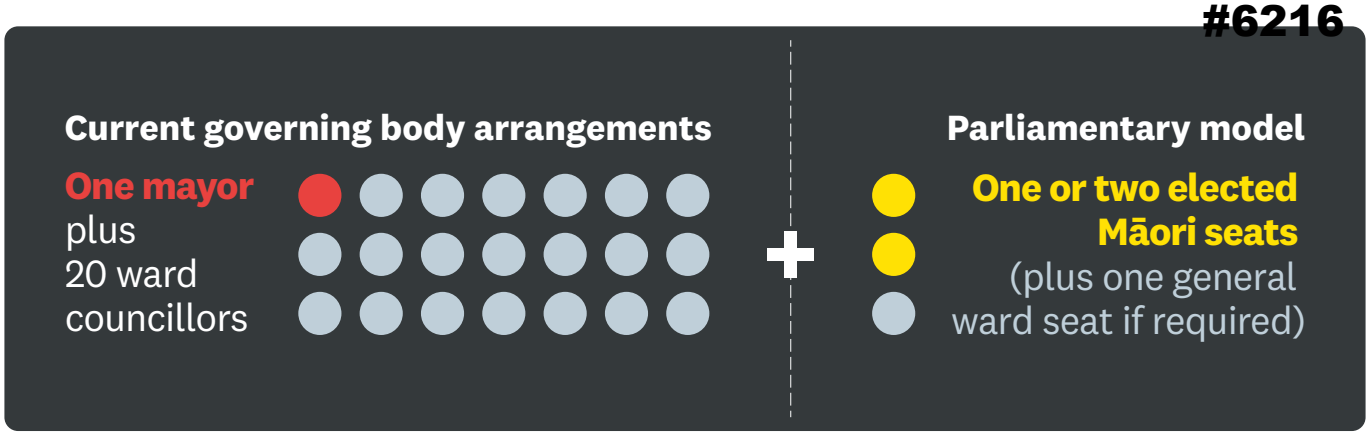

The table below shows how many Māori ward seats are allowed, depending on the number of ward councillors only:

Number of ward councillors	Number of councillors elected by Māori ward
0 - 7	0

Under the current legislation, Auckland Council's set number of 20 ward councillor seats means that we are eligible to establish one Māori ward seat. This would require one of the existing general ward seats to be disestablished.

If the set number of councillors for Auckland Council is removed, we will be eligible to have either one or two Māori elected seats through the formula provided in the Local Electoral Act 2001.

If Auckland Council has any number of councillors between eight and 22, then we are eligible for one Māori elected seat. If council has any number of councillors between 23 and 29, then we are eligible for two elected Māori seats. So, the total number of councillors has an effect on how many elected Māori seats we are eligible for.

The decision on how many Māori elected seats would be introduced is made through a process called a representation review, which will be explained in Part Three: Next Steps.

The model described above is currently allowed under the law for Māori seats in local government.

Parliamentary Māori electorate seats are also calculated using the Māori Electoral Population. This is why we sometimes refer to this model as the Parliamentary model. You can read more about this by here.

Māori appointed seats are seats filled by appointment rather than election, and the seats may be appointed in several ways, e.g. through a selection panel or a mana whenua forum.

The selection panel may consist of mana whenua representatives (members of an iwi/mana whenua group). An example of a mana whenua forum is the Tāmaki Makaurau Mana Whenua Forum. The forum's membership includes 19 mana whenua iwi/hapū and it can make decisions on matters within its authority.

The process (i.e. selection panel, mana whenua forum or other process) would be determined through legislation and help to ensure a transparent process. A recent example of law enabling Māori appointed seats in local government is the Canterbury Regional Council (Ngāi Tahu Representation) Act 2022.

Options for Māori seats

The Parliamentary model is the only way to introduce Māori seats without having to make any changes to legislation. Since 2021, Auckland Council has been exploring what other models might also work for Auckland.

Any model of Māori representation other than the Parliamentary model would require changes to legislation. These changes might include Māori appointed seats or other restructuring of the current arrangements.

One way to advocate for change to legislation is through a local bill. A local bill is a type of legislation that affects a particular area. The Ngāi Tahu Representation Act example above is a local bill that made changes to the law for the Canterbury Regional Council area.

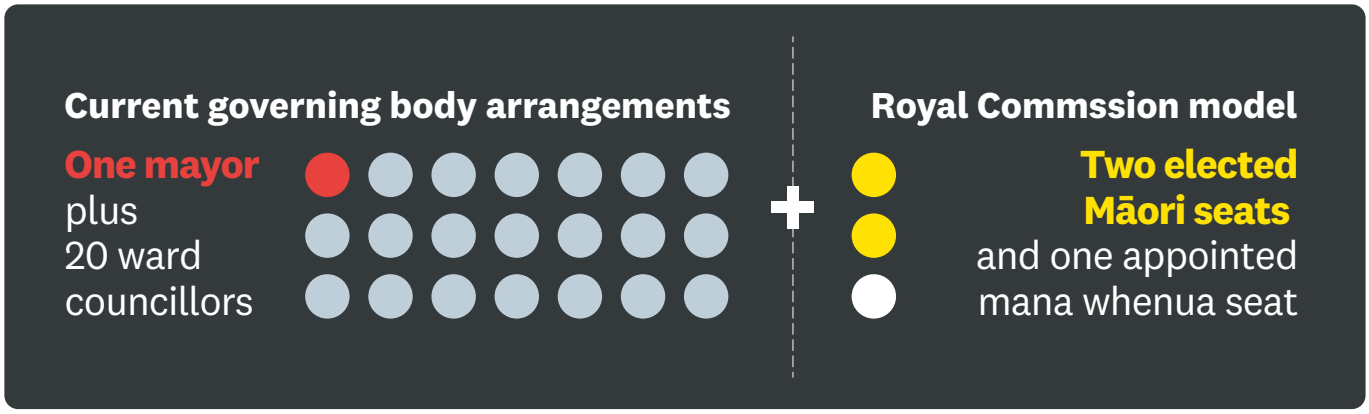

A model that has received some support[2] and would require changes to legislation through a local bill is the Royal Commission model.

The Royal Commission model

Before Auckland Council was established in 2010, the Government ordered an official investigation into how it might be set up. The Royal Commission model is based on the Royal Commission on Auckland Governance findings.

[2] For more information on support expressed so far, please refer to the section titled 'What views are there on this decision?'

The Royal Commission recommended three safeguarded Māori seats on Auckland Council: two Māori elected seats (elected from the Māori electoral roll) and one appointed mana whenua seat (selected by a mana whenua forum).

If the council chose the Royal Commission model as the preferred model, we would need to seek a change to legislation. It is difficult to predict how long this could take.

An example of legislative change to introduce appointed Māori seats, the Canterbury Regional Council (Ngāi Tahu Representation) Act 2022 took nine months. While this is a helpful example, it doesn't mean the timing would be the same for Auckland Council.

The table below presents options for Māori seats for Auckland Council and provides a brief overview of what each model will look like for Auckland Council.

The achievability for 2025 refers to the likelihood of the model being able to be introduced in time for the 2025 local elections.

	Do nothing	Parliamentary model	Royal Commission model	Any other model
Description	Maintain the existing representation arrangements for Auckland Council without specific Māori representation	One or two elected Māori ward members on the Governing Body	Three safeguarded Māori seats. One member appointed by mana whenua and two elected Māori ward members	To be determined through further work
Achievability for 2025	Achievable	Achievable	Requires legislative change	Requires legislative change

Views so far on Māori seats

#6216

Auckland Council, the Independent Māori Statutory Board and Māori in Tāmaki Makaurau have had some initial kōrero (discussion) on Māori seats for Auckland Council.

In 2017 the previous Governing Body agreed in principle to support Māori seats based on the Parliamentary model once the set number of councillors had been removed for Auckland Council. As this document has covered, legislative change is currently underway to remove the set number of councillors for Auckland Council.

In 2020 and 2021 the Governing Body noted the 2017 'in-principle' support and also stated it was open to supporting other models in the future including the Royal Commission model.

In June 2021 the Governing Body and Independent Māori Statutory Board formed a joint group to focus on Māori representation. Over the next six months, the joint group discussed several possible models. In December 2021 the joint group agreed to consider the Royal Commission model at their next individual meetings.

The Independent Māori Statutory Board has, since 2021, supported the Royal Commission model for Auckland.

In 2022 Auckland Council undertook some preliminary engagement with mana whenua and mataawaka representatives to discuss and receive feedback on Māori seats for the council. These views were presented to the Governing Body early in 2023.

The Royal Commission model would guarantee a mana whenua representative on Auckland Council. Because of this, it has received more support from Māori involved in these early conversations.
This model would require legislative change.

Part three: next steps

How and when will this consultation feedback be used?

A decision on Māori seats for Auckland Council is a significant one. It is a decision about how Māori are represented in Auckland, and how Aucklanders are represented by their Governing Body.

The Governing Body wishes to hear and consider the views and preferences of Māori and the wider public of Auckland before making this decision.

The feedback from this consultation will inform the Governing Body decision in October 2023 for the 2025 local elections. It is an opportunity for Māori and the wider public to have their views heard and considered.

Although the local elections in October 2025 seem far away right now, there is a lot of work that council must do before this.

Other decisions leading up to the 2025 local elections

When Auckland Council was first established, the Government decided there would be one mayor, 20 councillors and 21 local boards. These representation arrangements have not changed since 2010.

Every six years, the council must undertake a 'representation review'. This review determines how Auckland will be represented. You can find out more about this process here and in the table below. Auckland Council must undertake a representation review ahead of the 2025 election.

A representation review is an opportunity for the council to test whether the current number of councillors is right for Auckland. If the set number of councillors has not been removed through legislative change, then the current Governing Body arrangements (20 ward councillors and one mayor) will remain in place for the 2025 local elections.

The other decision the council can make ahead of the 2025 election is a 'reorganisation application' where the number of local boards could be considered. This decision is optional.

Process	Determines
Representation review Required in 2024	Governing Body arrangements (total number of councillors, whether elected 'at large'[3] , by ward, or a combination). Local board names, number of members in each local board (not the number of total local boards) and whether members are elected at large or by subdivision.
Reorganisation application Optional	A unitary authority may submit a reorganisation plan through a reorganisation application. This is an opportunity to review the total number of local boards only.

Because of the size of Auckland, this type of work takes many months. Council staff will start this work in late 2023 and will prepare an initial proposal for the public by no later than 31 July 2024. The council will also consider whether it should look at the number of local boards.

The public will be able to provide feedback on the council's proposals when they are notified. We will share more information on this closer to the time.

3 'At large' councillors are elected by the whole of the Auckland region, rather than a smaller local area.

Councillor numbers a consideration

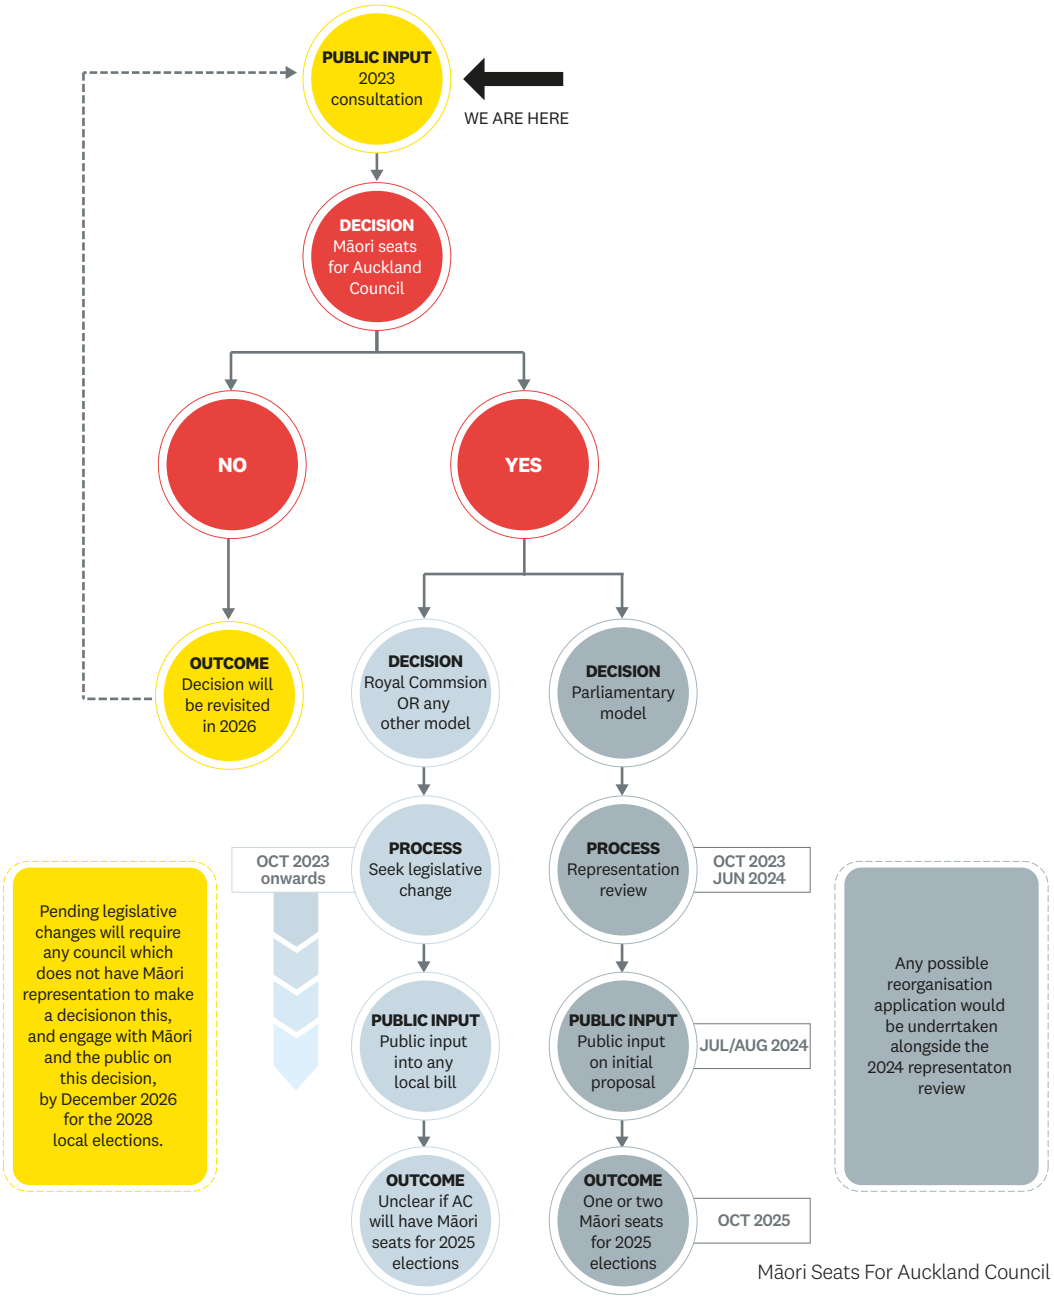

The total number of ward councillors is one of the key factors to how many Māori seats there might be. If the number of councillors stays set at 20, then Auckland Council is eligible for one Māori ward seat. One of the existing general ward seats would need to be disestablished to make this happen.

If the legislative change that is currently in front of Parliament to remove the set number of councillors is successful, Auckland Council will be able to decide how many councillors it should have – between five and 29. This is in line with the rest of the councils in New Zealand.

Auckland Council needs at least eight ward councillors to be eligible for Māori elected seats. This will be a consideration for the council when it carries out the representation review and considers how many councillors there will be for the 2025 local elections.

Preparing for the 2025 local elections

To prepare for the 2025 local elections, Auckland Council has some big decisions to make. These decisions will make sure that the representation arrangements are right for Tāmaki Makaurau. Aucklanders will have an opportunity to have their voices heard at every stage. The timeline below provides an overview of the next steps

   There is so much division in NZ now which is abhorrent. In the 1960's and 1970's when I was growing up, there was no such division. Race based representation entrenches that division even more.

Your feedback

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   I do not support Maori seats a I feel allocating seats to certain races not only creates racial division but undermines the entire democratic process we have now. As always we need to focus on electing councilors that have the skillsets that can make the appropriate decisions on a day to day basis relating to all matters required for effective operating of the local authority.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   A different model

   Tell us why:
   My question is if your going to allow specific seats to Maori's why not Asian demographics as this demographic makes up a large proportion of Auckland's population. Democratic decisions relating to planning , roads, delivery of infrastructure should not be base on race but based on the needs and population requirements that reside in this city. therefore I feel a different model needs to be investigated or the idea being scrapped entirely.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?

   Every race has the same needs, We all live in houses, we all drive cars, we all use public transport, we all use water for washing, hygiene and all go about our daily lives in a fair an equal matter. I feel opening the door to allow a certain race the advantage of seats on council irrespective of their credentials is unfair to the ones that have the skillsets required to operate the local authority. Also allowing Maori seats at the table opens up many potential issues that will create a hinderance in the effective operation of Auckland council

   Tell us why:
   Proportional local representation would provide these benefits with less conflict, as long as any minimum-cutoff was set low enough. Before NZ chose MMP, the main benefit of Maori seats in nationwide elections was to fix the disproportionately low level of Maori/minority representation caused by FPP (FPP is awful IMHO). Auckland has the same low-minority-representation FPP issue as our govt had previously, so why not choose the same solution and go proportional?

   I wouldn't mind "temporary" Maori seats until a proportional voting system is chosen, but I know this will just add fuel to the current fire around "separatism" etc. Proportional fixes everything without that conflict.

   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   This is anti-democratic and goes against everything that New Zealand has considered fair for hundreds of years.

   We need to have the best people in positions of power, elected by a fair process. Not people given power who may not deserve it. If the make up of 20 elected councillors is 0 maori or 10 maori it doesn't matter - we are rapidly going down the direction of an unelected group having unfair control

   Democracy relies on each person, regardless of race, having an equal say. Statistics show that Maori are fairly represented pursuant to their population percentage as it stands. Seats based on race or ethnicity is divisive, racist, and undermines democracy.

2. If council does decide to introduce Māori seats for Auckland, we also need your feedback on what your preferred model would be now.
   This would ensure planning could start in November 2023 to include Māori seats for the 2025 local elections.
   More information on the below options and their achievability by 2025 can be found in the consultation material under 'Options for Māori seats'.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   No preference

   Tell us why:
   Maori seats should not be introduced under any circumstances.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?
   Democracy relies on each person, regardless of race, having an equal say. Maori seats are an abhorrent idea.

1. Do you think Auckland Council should introduce Māori seats for the 2025 local elections?
   Do not support

   Tell us why:
   This is OUR council which we democratically elect. Maori (of which I'm one) can stand for election just like anyone else, be they PI, Asian, Indian or whatever.. I'm getting a bit sick and tired of being treated like a "special needs" person. I find this sort of thinking is quite divisive and sets us backwards as a community. It's time to start thinking and acting collaboratively.

   Simply there was no option to abstain from the question, so it was loaded to get what you want. This should simply NOT proceed, it's undemocratic and divisive.

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?

Yes, how about treating Maori as equals. We're not some backwater yokels who need or want special attention.

   Tell us why:
   As per Te Tiriti o Waitangi, the council is obligated to provide these seats to ensure that Tino Rangatiratanga is upheld for Tangata Whenua. Research shows that what is good for Māori ends up being good for society and ensuring their voice is heard is important they must have a seat at the table. Though whoever has these seats it is my belief that they must whakapapa Māori not non-Māori using the seats to put their own agendas under the guise of a Māori seat.

   If Auckland Council decides to introduce Māori seats, which model would you prefer?
   A different model

   Tell us why:
   I am not convinced that either model appropriately upholds the mana of Māori and perhaps a combination of the Parliamentary and Royal Commission Models is more suitable than either, but whatever is used must enhance the mana of Māori and not be Pākehā in control telling Māori how to live in their own whenua.

#8002

3. Is there anything else you would like the mayor and councillor's to consider when making this decision?

   I want them to think beyond their term in office and think about the long-term positive impacts it will have for the Māori communities if they are given a seat at the table as was guaranteed with the settlers arrived.

   This a legacy they can leave behind for a positive change. My Māori for Māori as Māori understand the needs of Māori. Also, remember that there are a number of iwi who have mana over the Tāmaki Makaurau whenua, not just Ngāti Whātua so this needs to be taken into account depending upon which model is selected.

   Auckland is multicultural and having Māori seats discriminates against all the other nationalities in Auckland. All seats & members of council should be elected by the people of Auckland based on the candidates qualifications, experience & ability not based on their race, gender, religious beliefs or sexual orientation.    I believe our first priority next few years is to get Auckland back on track before spending more money on new initiatives (law changes). We need more time and money spent on the recovery of Auckland post covid, revisit the budgetary cuts of key community services and assist with the devastating floods and prepare our city for more weather events. Revisit once we see confidence in the current council over next year (s).

   Tell us why:
   This is yet another form of co governance being institutionalised by stealth. I do not support this identity politics based approach to governance. Many of those identifying as Maori (myself included) are less than half Maori by lineage. This only reinforces the sense that these categorisations are largely social constructs promoted by left wing post Marxist thinkers. That is not to deny the cultural aspects of being Maori but I simply do not support the idea that two people who identify as Maori by definition have more in common than two people one of whom so identifies and the other who does not. Bloodline is merely a single characteristic of the human condition. For years we have been told that distinguishing according to race and colour is racist and that inside everyone is the same. Now we are being told the opposite is true. I know which view I prefer. The one advocated by Martin Luther King

How about categorising us by IQ or age or personality and providing special wards for each. This is the nature of what is being proposed but at least these criteria include a little more relevant objectivity. And simply stating that we have obligations under the Treaty is an intellectual and moral cope out. 187 years have past since that document was signed and suddenly today we need to do all these things. That is saying every previous generation was wrong and the current ideologically captured group is right. What are the chances of that. Ideology rarely results in good outcomes because rational thinking is subordinated. Furthermore NZ today has many many more migrants from a vast array of nations and cultures. Maori bloodlines too are vastly diluted. Logic would dictate that the Treaty today has less relevance than ever.
